

THE GATHERING 2021 | VIA ZOOM

HOPING IN DARKNESS: GATHERING CLIMATE VOICES

There is urgency around us. We can sense it in our world, communities, teams, families and ourselves. For this year's gathering, we offer the opportunity to explore this sense of urgency and the hope and actions that might emerge for us. We will reflect on core Relational Change values: the preciousness of our planet as our home, as a place of interconnection and interdependence that is of priceless value and cannot tolerate more exploitation of resources (view our Charter at <http://www.relationalchange.org/charter.html>).

We are delighted that Donna Orange (psychoanalyst, climate activist, author of 'Climate Crisis, Psychoanalysis and Radical Ethics') and Beatrix Wimmer (past president and current co-ordinator of Climate Awareness group, EAGT) will be contributing through recorded interviews. With their input and that of other voices, we will inquire into this urgency, what it means to relational practitioners and how it might lead us forward in our own lives.

This year's community gathering will be an online event again to enable practitioners from around the world to join us.

Whether you are a therapist, counsellor, organisational consultant, coach, or simply interested in the work of Relational Change, we believe you will discover something useful in this day of exploration and discussion. This is a chance for us to gather as a community, share updates on our work and strengthen relationships. We look forward to welcoming you.
