

THE GATHERING 2022 | VIA ZOOM

WORKING AT THE EDGE OF SUPERVISION: AN OPPORTUNITY FOR NEW LEARNINGS

Some edges are evident and the processes to manage them clear: how can we find support when faced with risk and uncertainty?

In this year's Relational Change community gathering, whether you are the supervisor or supervisee, we would like you to join us and share some of the aspects which you consider to be working at the edge in relational supervision and the support which may be needed when faced with these less familiar, more difficult or uncertain situations.

We intend to explore together

- How may the context/situation influence the work in ways that take us to the edge of our capacity to work effectively?
- How do we recognise the edges of our knowledge/competence as a supervisor?
- How do we recognise when a supervisory relationship is on a precarious edge?
- To consider our own blind spots and growing edges – and the support we may need for the next step.

Whether you are a therapist, counsellor, organisational consultant, coach or simply interested in the work of Relational Change, we believe you will discover something useful in this day of exploration and discussion. This is an opportunity for us to gather as a community, share updates of our work and strengthen relationships. We look forward to welcoming you.
